Last Game

A night after one of their easiest wins of the season the T-Bones has one of their hardest fought victories last night in a 3-2 win over Texas down in Grand Prairie. Daniel Nava and Mason Davies each had third inning back to back RBI singles to take the lead 2-0 but two errors in the home half of the fourth led to two unearned runs for the AirHogs. With the two teams knotted at two Dylan Tice drove in the go ahead run with two outs in the top of the sixth to put KC up for good. T.J. House went 5.2 striking out nine while the pen locked the game down with 3.1 scoreless relief including a ninth inning save by Carlos Diaz, his 12th.

Tonight

The T-Bones open their final home stand and series of the season with the Sioux City Explorers. Both teams remain alive for post season play with the X's leading the American Association South division a game ahead of KC and Cleburne.

Pitching Matchup

RHP Dylan Baker takes the bump for KC. Baker comes to KCK after one season with the Los Angeles Dodgers organization where he went 3-6 in 34 games all in relief with a 6.08 ERA over 37 innings and notched eight saves in 2018. Primarily a starter throughout his career, it was his first season to notch a save as a pitcher. Prior to his one season with the Dodgers system, he spent 2012 to 2017 with the Cleveland Indians organization. Baker was selected in the fifth round of the 2012 First-Year Player Draft by the Cleveland Indians and made his debut in the rookie Arizona League that summer.

RHP Carlos Sierra is a native of Cuba who played one year in the Cuban National Series before signing with the Houston Astros as an International free agent. He would spend three seasons with the Astros organization reaching AA Corpus Christi in 2018. Sierra has primarily been a bull pen arm making 96 appearances in his career and this season transitioned to a starter. He has made 14 career starts coming into tonight with a career record of 14-9 with a 3.68 ERA.

Up next

Following the series with Sioux City the season wraps up. Currently there are three teams vying for post season play in the division. Sioux City, Cleburne and the T-Bones. One of the three will be going fishing the other pair will start the South Division Championship Series (first round).

Tight at the top

The wins last night by KC, Sioux City and Cleburne the race remained where it was for the second night in a row. Sioux City is still in a tie with Cleburne for the South Division crown but own the tie-breaker head to head. KC sits one game back of both clubs and trails Cleburne in the wild card by a game as well. The T-Bones own the tie breaker with the RailRoaders but are 3-6 against Sioux City. The T-Bones simple math is that they need to keep winning to make it into the post season and defend their crown. In that path they would be no worse than a wild card entrant. Yet, at this point in the race with four games remaining there are multiple playoff scenarios where the division title is still within reach. To get to that spot, KC could also use some help depending on results. T-Bones fans might want find some Lincoln love in their heart tonight. Also looking ahead to the weekend, the longer the North Division stays close the series at Fargo for Cleburne would also be one to watch and perhaps cheer on the RedHawks this weekend. The T-Bones need only to be even in the standings with Cleburne to move forward to post season. The schedule breakdown:

Big third inning propels T-Bones to win over Sox

08/30/2012

AMARILLO, Texas - The Kansas City T-Bones scored four runs on three hits and three walks in the third inning, and they went on to double up Amarillo, 8-4, at Amarillo National Bank Sox Stadium on Thursday night.

The biggest hit of the third inning came off the bat of catcher Trevor Coleman, whose two-out two-run single made the score 4-0. Coleman finished the night two for five with a double, single and three RBIs.

The T-Bones chased Sox starter Matt Lackie, a former college teammate of Kansas City pitcher Luke Irvine, early in the game. Lackie lasted only three and two-thirds, allowing six earned runs on six hits and walking four. Lackie dropped to 0-2 and gave up one homer, a solo shot by Kris Sanchez in the fourth, his 15th of the year and first as a T-Bone.

Shaun Garceau (9-6) started for the T-Bones and maneuvered his way through seven innings, allowing three runs on eight hits. Garceau struck out five and walked none en route to earning the win. He is now tied with Brian Grening for the team lead in victories.

Justin Bass went two for four, raising his average to .309. Meanwhile, playing against his former team, Adam De La Garza had a nice night for the T-Bones as well, finishing two for three with a triple, single, two stolen bases and two runs scored.

Dylan Baker comes to KCK after one season with the Los Angeles Dodgers organization where he went 3-6 in 34 games all in relief with a 6.08 ERA over 37 innings and notched eight saves in 2018. Primarily a starter throughout his career, it was his first season to notch a save as a pitcher. Prior to his one season with the Dodgers system, he spent 2012 to 2017 with the Cleveland Indians organization. Baker was selected in the fifth round of the 2012 First-Year Player Draft by the Cleveland Indians and made his debut in the rookie Arizona League that summer, going 0-1 with a 4.13 ERA in 24 innings, making eight starts in his eight games. He added 30 strike outs his first season. In 2013 at Lake County in the Midwest League, Baker went 7-6 in 27 games, making 25 starts over a 143.2 career-high innings. He would strike out 117 on the season at low A. Baker logged a team-best 143.2 innings, finishing with team-highs in victories (7) and strikeouts (117) and ranked among Midwest League leaders in starts (4th, 25), innings (4th, 143.2), strikeouts (4th, 117) and ERA (13th, 3.63). Baker also ranked fifth in ERA among all Cleveland minor leaguers that season and earned the Indians Minor League Player of the Week for June 19th – 25th that season. The 2014 season began with promise for Baker at high A Carolina. He would work six innings of no-hit ball with four strike outs, but he would miss a majority of the season because of a broken right ankle, suffered after making his first start of the season. He would be activated from the DL on July 21 and slowly work his way back. Baker would go to the rookie level Arizona league for three games where he posted a 1.59 ERA in 5.2 innings, and then Baker headed back to high A in the Carolina League to close out the season. He would finish the year going at least five innings in his last four starts, including back-to-back quality starts where he held the opposition to four runs over 12 innings. In his final 19 innings of the season, Baker allowed just five earned runs. He would go 3-3 overall with the Mudcats with a 4.05 ERA in nine starts in 46.2 innings. Baker once again had to fight off the injury bug in 2015. He was limited to just one start, coming April 9 at Potomac where he worked five hitless innings while walking one and fanning nine. Baker was diagnosed with an elbow strain after the start and was placed on the DL, eventually undergoing right elbow reconstruction on May 20. Baker then underwent a clean-up procedure (scar tissue) on January 8 that delayed the start of his 2016 season. He would be rewarded despite the setbacks and was added to the 40-man roster on November 20 of 2015 by Cleveland. The 2016 was a "wash" for Baker owing to the 2015 surgeries. He was limited in his return to the mound as he experienced discomfort at each step along his rehabilitation efforts and was forced to undergo and additional arthroscopic procedure on August 16 to address posterior elbow and forearm soreness. Baker returned in 2017 and started the season on the DL because of the previous two seasons of setbacks. He went a combined 1-1 with a 2.70 ERA in 17 games with two starts with AA Akron in the Eastern League and Rookie level Arizona. Baker struck out 16 while giving up just one walk. He pitched in 13 games at AA, going 0-1 with a 2.84 ERA, and he struck out 10 against one walk and pitched in another four games (two starts) for Rookie-level Arizona Indians while in rehab with a back injury from July 23 to August 14. The Indians recalled Baker on September 1 and shut him down for the rest of the season, placing him on the 60-day disabled list with a right shoulder strain and ending his season. Baker, a native of Alaska, graduated from Douglas High School, in Juneau, Alaska, before attending Tacoma Community College. He then transferred to Western Nevada College where he became the highest draft selection for a player out of Western Nevada in 2012.
