Last Night

A five run first inning got the T-Bones off on the right foot on the way to a 7-4 series clinching win. The T-Bones first was capped by a Keith Curcio double and Colin Walsh would provide an exclamation point on the night with a solo shot in the third as the KC pen took over from there. Barrett Astin would go six in the win while Marcus Crescentini picked up the save.

Today

The T-Bones will host division rivals the Lincoln Saltdogs in the final game of a three-game series. LHP Kyle Kinman (4-2, 4.18) will start for Lincoln while the T-Bones will counter with RHP Lucas Irvine (4-2, 4.73) in the series finale.

Vs. Lincoln

The two clubs have played seven times already this season and KC holds the 8-0 advantage. All time in the American Association the T-Bones hold a 43-36 record in the series.

Did you know?

Prior to coming to KCK the T-Bones played in the Northern League City of Duluth, Minnesota. The Dukes were one of the original six teams in the league when it returned in 1993. The other clubs were the St. Paul Saints, the Sioux Falls Canaries, the Sioux City Explorers, the Thunder Bay Whiskey Jacks and the Rochester Aces. The Aces lasted a year before they moved to Winnipeg and became the Goldeyes. The Dukes played their home games at Wade Stadium. That park was home to the original Northern League Dukes that folded in 1970 when that league went under. The park dates back to 1941. The team won the Northern League Pennant in 1997 the only flag the club won while in Minnesota beating Winnipeg in the finals.

Let's Play 18

With the current record of 41-21 the T-Bones are a season high 20 games above .500 and also is the highest number of games above .500 the club has been as members of the American Association. The T-Bones are ahead of last year's pace by five games. In 2017 after 62 games KC sat at 36-26. Joe Calfapietra arrived on the scene last season and during his tenure the T-Bones have been above .500 for 147 days including the last 83 days of the 2017 season. Last season the team was 15 games above .500 on August 13th the highest of the season and at the time the second highest number in franchise history. The 2010 team finished 58-42 in Tim Doherty's first season at the helm on KC the highest point until the T-Bones passed that mark earlier this month.

Year Days above .500

2018	61	From May 25 th on.

Blackwood Earns Second Weekly Honor of 2010 Campaign

For the second time this season, the Northern League has named Kansas City T-Bones second baseman Jacob Blackwood Player of the Week, this time for the week ending July 25. He was also selected as Northern League Player of the Week for the week ending May 31. Blackwood, who leads the league with 53 RBI, batted .393 (11-for-28) with seven runs scored, two doubles, a league-high four home runs, and 10 RBI over the seven-game span. The highlight of the week was a two homer, five-RBI, four-for-four performance Friday night versus Rockford in the T-Bones 12-2 victory.

The 6-0, 210-pounder, is playing his fifth season of professional baseball, and second with the T-Bones. He first signed with Kansas City on June 25, 2009 and batted .288 over 63 games for the T-Bones last year. With 16 home runs already in 2010, he has eclipsed his previous single-season home run high of 10, posted with Greensboro of the South Atlantic League in 2007. Blackwood is also on pace to establish a new career high in RBI, besting his current mark of 78, also set during the 2007 campaign. On the verge of a career-year offensively, the 24-year-old has excelled despite changing positions. He has started every game at second base this year after having played over 300 of his previous 373 games at third base entering the season. He had played only six career games at second base at the start of 2010.

Blackwood was selected by the Florida Marlins in the 16th round of the 2006 amateur draft and played parts of four seasons in their organization. He was also drafted in the 40th round of the 2005 amateur draft by the New York Mets, but did not sign.

*This marked the seventh time in nine weeks that a T-Bones player had earned weekly honors.

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Irvine activated, Astin moved to disabled list

KANSAS CITY, Kan.— The Kansas City T-Bones announced today the club has activated right-handed pitcher, local product Lucas Irvine from the disabled list. Barrett Astin takes Irvine's place on the disabled list, after pitching six innings and giving up four earned runs last night against the Lincoln Saltdogs.

Lucas Irvine comes back to the T-Bones after being put on the disabled list on July 18 and will get the start tonight for the final game of the series against the Lincoln Saltdogs.

Irvine spent parts of two seasons early in his career with Kansas City. In 2012 he appeared in 30 games (13 starts), going 4–2 with a 2.59 ERA in 104.1 innings. He was second in the club in strike outs with 107 for the T-Bones. In 2013 Irvine returned to make 17 starts for the T-Bones, going 6-5 with three complete games in 121.1 innings. He was traded to New Jersey in the CAN-AM League on August 13, 2013 joining current T-Bones Manager Joe Calfapietra's club for a late playoff run. Irvine, was in the top five in the league in ERA (2.96, third), strikeouts (94, fifth), complete games (3, tied-second) and innings pitched (121 2/3, second) at the time of the trade and finished second for the T-Bones staff in innings and strike outs (94). This season Irvine went 4–2 with a .473 ERA before being placed on the disabled list.

Barrett Astin, born in Forrest City, Arkansas, came to the T-Bones following a 2017 season where he played 69 games between AZL Reds and the AAA Louisville in the Cincinnati Reds organization. Astin last pitched in 2018 with the Louisville Bats of the AAA League. With the Bats, the Arkansas native appeared in 5 games, working 7.2 innings of relief with a 4.7 ERA with 5 strikeouts. With the T-Bones this season Astin has gone 7–3 with a 6.50 ERA. Astin began his professional career with the Milwaukee Brewers organization in 2013 after being drafted in the 3rd round.

The T-Bones will wrap up their three-game series with the Lincoln Saltdogs tonight at 7:05 pm at T-Bones Stadium. The game will air on AmericanAssociationBaseballTV.com and can be heard on T-Bones MixLR Channel and the MixLR app.

MEET THE T-BONES STARTING PITCHER

Tonight's starter #16 Lucas Irvine

Lucas Irvine spent two seasons with the T-Bones in 2012 and 2013 and joins the club again after a solid 2017 season for Somerset in the Atlantic League. Irvine went 9-4 with a 4.26 ERA in 135.1 innings with 89 strike outs in 25 starts for the Patriots. He would lead the team with nine wins and was first in innings pitched at 135.1 innings. Irvine spent parts of two seasons early in his career with Kansas City. In 2012 he appeared in 30 games (13 starts), going 4-2 with a 2.59 ERA in 104.1 innings. He was second in the club in strike outs with 107 for the T-Bones. In 2013 Irvine returned to make 17 starts for the T-Bones, going 6-5 with three complete games in 121.1 innings. He was traded to New Jersey in the CAN-AM League on August 13th, 2013 joining current T-Bones Manager Joe Calfapietra's club for a late playoff run. Irvine, was in the top five in the league in ERA (2.96, third), strikeouts (94, fifth), complete games (3, tied-second) and innings pitched (121 2/3, second) at the time of the trade and would finish second for the T-Bones staff in innings and strike outs (94). He would be moved once again after the Jackals season to Camden in the Atlantic League and would pitch in one game to close out a busy 2013. Irvine is a native of Liberty, Missouri and attended Liberty High School. He would then move on to Northwestern State University of Louisiana where he would be drafted twice. The first time in 2010 in the 43rd round by the Chicago White Sox and again in 2011 in the 27th round by the Tampa Rays. Irvine signed with the Rays in 2011 and spent one season with the Rays at rookie level Princeton in the Appalachian League before joining the T-Bones in 2012. In 2014 Irvine would pitch in Japan in the "indy" IBLJ ShikokuKyushu Island League for the Kagawa Olive Guyners before returning to the Atlantic League in 2015 and joining the Somerset Patriots. He would go 6-8 with a 3.41 ERA in 129.1 innings, making 22 starts and being named to the 2015 Atlantic League All-Star Team. Irvine would have his contract purchased by the Arizona Diamondbacks on August 28th of 2015 and was assigned to High A Visalia in the California League where he went 2-0 with a 2.13 ERA in 12.2 innings (two starts). Irvine spent most of 2016 with the Diamondbacks where he earned a 5-3 record with a 3.98 ERA and 52 strikeouts spread across 14 games (nine starts) between the High-A, Double-A and Triple-A levels. He would post a 4-0 record at High A Visalia with a 2.32 ERA in seven games over 51.1 innings before a jump to AA Mobile in the Southern League. At Mobile the righty would toss 29.2 innings, going 1-3 with a 5.76 ERA. In between the two stops, Irvine would make one appearance at AAA Reno, allowing 1 ER in 2.2 innings. He would close out 2016 at AAA Aquascalientes of the Mexican League, making eight starts in 41 innings with a 4.61 ERA and a 2-3 record. The last two winters Irvine pitched for Caracas in the Venezuelan Winter League.

-Lucas Irvine all-time status in T-Bones pitching history.
Innings pitched 290.2 is 5th in franchise history
239 strike outs 4th

In 2013 Gracesqui took the next step up the ladder to the rookie Appalachian League, tossing 22.1 innings with a 4-0 record and a 2.82 ERA. He would split time in 2014 with short season A Vancouver in the Northwest League and low A Lansing in the Midwest League. At Lansing he crafted a 2.11 ERA in 21.1 relief innings with 28 punch outs and a 1-2 record, and while at Vancouver, he did not allow an earned run in 14.1 innings, and he picked up a pair of wins to go 2-0. He would appear in two games for Lansing in 2015 and would not allow an earned run in two innings before he was released by Toronto.

#3 Kevin Hill

Kevin Hill comes to the T-Bones from AA Corpus Christi in the Texas League. With the Hooks, he appeared in 10 games working 18.1 innings with a 2-1 record and a 1.96 ERA. Hill began his professional career with the Houston Astros organization in 2016. After being drafted in the 25th round, he would pitch 13 games for the Tri-City ValleyCats, posting a 4.37 ERA in 35 innings with 22 strikeouts. In 2017, he split time between three different organizations. Hill started the year playing for Quad City in the Midwest League. With the River Bandits, he played 14 games with a 2-1 record and a 3.60 ERA. Hill moved on to A(adv) Buies Creek in the Carolina League where he played in 10 games pitching 34.1 innings of relief with 36 strikeouts. After his time with Buies Creek, he finished the year with AA Corpus Christi in the Southern League. The Oklahoma native played in two games for the Hooks with a 1-0 record and 0.00 ERA.

Lee comes to Kansas City after spending the 2017 season with the Nationals in the Gulf Coast League. He played in three games and pitched 2.2 innings of relief. Lee began his professional career with the Washington Nationals organization in 2011. After being drafted in the 18th round, he would pitch ten games in the Gulf Coast League, posting a 4.05 ERA in 13 innings with 15 strikeouts. In 2012, the San Antonio native spent the season with A(Short) Auburn of the New York-Penn League. He pitched 13 games for the Doubledays with a 3-1 record and a 3.77 ERA. ERA and a 2-0 record. Lee spent 2016 in Harrisburg. This time, he pitched 45 games with a 3-1 record and a 4.32 ERA in 50 innings.

#36 Nick Lee

Nick Lee spent 2013 with A(Full) Hagerstown in the South Atlantic League. While with the Suns, he pitched 19 games, posting a 3.96 ERA in 91 innings with a 6-4 record. Lee split time between three different teams in 2014. He started the year with the Nationals of the Gulf Coast League. While there he pitched 8 innings with a 6.75 ERA. He then moved on to A(adv) Potomac of the Carolina League, pitching five games with a 10.05 ERA and an 0-2 record. He finished the season with A(Full) Hagerstown pitching 8.1 innings with a 7.56 ERA and a 1-0 record. Lee split time again in 2015 starting the season with Potomac in the Carolina League. He pitched 20 games, posting a 2.57 ERA in 28 innings with 28 strikeouts. Lee ended the season with AA Harrisburg in the Eastern League. He pitched 20 games posting a 3.75.

#24 Jackson Lowery

Kansas City has added RHP Jackson Lowery to the roster on August 4th, while the team was on their longest road trip of the season. Lowery retired all four of his batters in his debut at Lincoln that night and would go on to have a 2-1 record with a 3.12 ERA in 17.1 relief innings. He did make one spot start for the club, while adding 25 strike outs. Lowery is from Little Rock, Arkansas and pitched in college at the University of Arkansas in the SEC. Lowery signed a free agent contract with the Toronto Blue Jays after his senior season with the Razorbacks. In 2015, he made three stops in the Blue Jays system and spent last winter with the Canberra Cavalry of the Australian Baseball League. For his career the former Razorback is 6-4 with a 4.54 ERA in 85.1 innings.

#47 Pasquale Mazzoccoli

Pasquale Mazzoccoli was the Pirates 35th round pick in 2016 out of Texas State University in San Marcos, Texas. He would join Bristol in the Appalachian League after the draft in 2016 pitching 26.2 innings with 21 strike outs. Last year Mazzoccoli began the season with five scoreless innings in the New York-Penn League at West Virginia before going 3-1 with West Virginia in the South Atlantic League in 25.2 relief innings. Combined on the season the Katy, Texas native would strike out 35 batters in 34.2 innings pitched.

#35 Cody Winiarski

Cody Winiarski returns to the T-Bones where he was named the Reliever of the Year in the American Association in 2017. Winiarski earned Post Season All-Star honors by saving 21 games in 23 opportunities with a 5-1 record, striking out 66 in 52.1 innings with a 1.89 ERA for Kansas City. His 21 saves were the second most in the single season in T-Bones club history, just missing Kris Regas mark of 22 set in 2014.

Winiarski would walk just eight batters in 2017 with an 8:1 strike out to walk ratio. His 47 appearances were the second most games for a pitcher in T-Bones franchise history. Winiarski was also part of a record-setting staff for Kansas City. The T-Bones set the American Association single-season strike out mark as a staff at 897. On August 9th in Fargo, in the bottom of the ninth, Winiarski struck out the side to break the franchise mark single-season team strike out mark.

Winiarski, a former Chicago White Sox prospect, originally joined the T-Bones on January 13, 2017. The right-hander was selected in the 36th round by the Chicago White Sox in the 2011 draft out of the University of Virginia. A native of Wisconsin, he was drafted out of Union Grove High School by the Philadelphia Phillies in the 36th round but did not sign in 2007. As a Junior at the University of Virginia, he would post a 4.68 ERA, working 75 innings, with a 5-0 record in 17 games with 14 starts. Winiarski then went 6-4 in 77 innings as a senior with a 2.92 ERA in 13 starts, appearing 19 games total. Over his four-year college career, he struck out 200 in 267 innings. With the White Sox system, Winiarski reached AA Birmingham in 2015, and over parts of five seasons he would post a 4-7 record with a 4.00 ERA in 157.2 innings with 197 strike outs. His 2015 season was cut short in June because of an arm injury, and he did not return to the White Sox until late 2016. After Tommy John surgery in July of 2015, he returned for one game in 2016 with the rookie level White Sox of the AZL.

Meet the “Man on the top step”

On November 30, 2016, Joe Calfapietra was named the T-Bones sixth manager in the club's history. Calfapietra (pronounced Cal-fa-pee-eh-tra), 47, brings an overall record of 905-783 into his second season in Kansas City and his 18th season as a manager, all at the independent level. Calfapietra guided Kansas City to the second best overall franchise record in the club's history (57-43) with the team finishing in a three-way tie for a post season spot for the league the wild card. The T-Bones did not advance due to a tie breaker but Calfapietra turned over the 2017 roster with only one hold over from the 2016 helping the club reach a franchise high of 84 days above .500 out of a 109 day season. Despite a 1-5 start to begin the season, his 2017 club reached .500 at 7-7 at Sioux Falls on June 2nd and stayed at or above for 93 days and 83 in a row. With the win on August 26th at Gary, Calfapietra won his 900th career game. He hit the 50-win mark August 23rd at home against Cleburne for the seventh straight season. Calfapietra spent 14 seasons as the manager of the New Jersey Jackals of the Can-Am League before taking over the dugout reigns of the T-Bones in 2017. While in New Jersey, only four of those 14 teams did not reach the postseason. The Jackals won the league championship in 2004, at the end of Calfapietra's second season in New Jersey, and then his teams reached the league championship series in five consecutive seasons, 2011-15. In 2016, the Jackals went 62-38, before losing in the first round of the Can-Am playoffs. The T-Bones and Calfapietra's Jackals faced each other seven times in interleague play since 2012, with New Jersey winning four of those games. Calfapietra started his coaching career in 1994 in this organization, when the T-Bones were in Duluth, Minn., and were known as the Dukes. In 2002, Calfapietra was the first-ever manager of the Gary SouthShore RailCats, where he was the league manager of the year, before starting with New Jersey the following season. Calfapietra lives in Collegetown, Pa., with his wife and their two daughters, ages 17 and 11. Calfapietra is the T-Bones' sixth manager since the team moved from Duluth prior to the 2003 season and when he took over in 2017 he replaced John Massarelli, who went 139-160 in three seasons with Kansas City, including 42-58 in 2016.

Did you know?

-T-Bones Manager Joe Calfapietra was the first manager of the Gary SouthShore RailCats in 2002, going 35-55, a feat that may seem not too monumental at first glance. Yet, when you consider the team played their entire schedule on the road due to construction delays with their home ballpark, the numbers are impressive. For his efforts, he was named Manager of the Year

Next to 1000

-St. Paul Manager George Tsamis reached 1,000 career wins back on June 12th. He joined former Fargo boss Doug Simunic, current Gary Manager Greg Tagert and first year Chicago Dogs Manager Butch Hobson in the 1,000-win club in indy ball. Who is the next up to 1000 wins? Joe Calfapietra, who currently has 946 wins in his career.
