Media Info

The Kansas City T-Bones have partnered with Entercom for the 2007 season to bring you all 96 T-Bones games! Ninety-two of those games can be heard on KXTR-AM 1660; the other four games will be broadcast on KCSP-AM 610 - opening night on May 17, June 6, July 22, and August 2. Games are always available via streaming audio at www.tbonesbaseball.com.

FIRST PLACE FLYERS VISIT KC: The T-Bones welcome the Schaumburg Flyers to Kansas City for a three-game series beginning tonight at 7 p.m. After the first week of the second half of the Northern League season, the Flyers find themselves atop of the Southern Division with a 5-3 record, one game better than both Joliet and Gary. After finishing the first half of the season 20-28, Schaumburg has won 6 of their last 10 games, including three in a row heading into tonight's contest. Schaumburg and Kansas City split the first-half series five games apiece, and the T-Bones are 2-2 against the Flyers in the second half. Despite their record, the Flyers have been outscored 346-to-286 the season.

STRUGGLING CULP TAKES THE HILL: Schaumburg will send Brandon Culp (0-2, 7.65) to the mound tonight as the Flyers try to keep their winning ways rolling. After spending 2005 and 2006 with Fargo, Culp was released by the RedHawks at the beginning of the 2007 season as signed with Schaumburg on June 20. Culp made two relief appearances against the T-Bones in the first series of the second half, allowing no hits or runs in three and one-third inning of work. The eight-year pitcher has struggled as a starter this season, going 0-2 with a 10.43 ERA in three starts. Prior to 2007, Culp had a record of 19-5 and a 4.02 ERA as a starter in the Northern League. For his career against the T-Bones, Culp is 1-1 with a 5.52 ERA.

KRYSA FOR FIRST WIN: Jonathan Krysa (0-5, 6.75 ERA) will take the mound for Kansas City, trying to snap a personal seven-game losing streak that dates back to 2006. Krysa has an ERA of nearly four runs lower at home than on the road in '07. His two starts against the Flyers this season have been effective, allowing five runs in 13 innings, but both contests ended with losses for Krysa and the T-Bones. Krysa went a complete-game eight innings, allowing two earned runs with a season-high six strikeouts in his last outing on July 14 against Schaumburg. In his five-year stint with Kansas City, Krysa has gone 4-3 against Schaumburg with one save and a 3.75 ERA.

WATSON STILL STREAKING AT HOME: With a two-for-four day at the plate in yesterday's loss, Rob Watson extended his home on-base streak to a league-best 28 games. During the streak, which dates back to opening day, Watson has 36 hits, including eight doubles, one triple and four home runs to go with 26 walks that combine for an on-base percentage of .478 at home this season. Watson also holds the fourth-best average in the league at .350, and the T-Bones infielder is hitting .395 (15-for-38) over his last 10 games. Through 55 games this season, the five-year veteran has already set a career high in hits with 55.

BENJAMIN'S STREAK REACHES DOUBLE-DIGITS: Al Benjamin's one-for-five day extended his hitting streak at home to 10 games. Since making his debut with Kansas City on June 24, Benjamin has reached base safely in 21 of 22 games.

PICKERING CATCHES FIRE: 21 hits, including four home runs, and eight walks make up an on-base percentage of .460 for Calvin Pickering during his home on-base streak, which now stands at 14 games. Kansas City's designated hitter flourishes at CommunityAmerica, as his on-base percentage is 136 points higher at home than on the road. Heading into tonight's game with the Flyers, Pickering has recorded at least one RBI in eight straight home games and is hitting .417 (five-for-12) over the team's last five games.

ARLIS IS MONEY: Kansas City appears to have sold their catching inconsistencies with five-year veteran Patrick Arlis. Since joining the T-Bones, Arlis is hitting .355 (11-for-31) with one double, two RBI and three runs in nine games. The five-year veteran is also hitting .389 (seven-for-18) at home.

SCHWEITZER NEARLY PERFECT: One of the bright spots in Kansas City's bullpen this season has been the pitching of eight-year man Matt Schweitzer. In yesterday's setback, Schweitzer pitched one and two-thirds inning, allowing one hit and zero runs. Over his last 18 appearances, Schweitzer has allowed one run, going 1-0 with two saves and a microscopic 0.04 ERA.

LIGHTS OUT AFTER EIGHT: Both Kansas City and Schaumburg will be fighting to control the lead after eight innings tonight, as neither team has shown much comeback ability in the final frame this season. The T-Bones are 1-30 when trailing after eight innings, and Schaumburg is 0-25 when down heading into the ninth.

DELGADO DESTRUCTIVE VERSUS FORMER TEAM: After following Andy McCauley from Schaumburg, Mario Delgado has proven to be very effective against his former team. The T-Bones first baseman is hitting .309 (17-for-55) with four doubles, two home runs, eight RBI and nine runs against his former team. Delgado is still hovering around the league lead in many offensive categories, including batting average (.335, sixth), hits (78, fourth), doubles (21, first) and extra-base hits (29, tied for second).
